GEOGRAPHIC CODES

General Purpose: Geographic codes are primarily used to provide a three-digit numerical identification for various countries and geographic entries.

Responsible Office: M/B/PB/RPA - Table 11(A)

Composition of Code: The code is structured as follows:

XX

| └─ Identifies specific geographic entries, countries, territories, and organizational or program entries within a region; e.g., 09 =
 Germany, Federal Republic

| Identifies geographic region in which the country is located
e.g., 1 = Europe

AID GEOGRAPHIC CODE BOOK

1. General

The AID Geographic Code Book is distributed to all Missions, U.S. Government and international agencies, and U.S. credit institutions doing business with the Agency. It is used primarily to (a) provide a simple three-digit code for use on documents identifying various countries and (b) to enable AID to use automatic data processing (ADP) for financial and program information.

2. Responsibility for Master Control of the Codes

The Resource Planning Analysis Division (M/B/PB/RPA) is responsible for master control of the code list used in AID.

All inquiries, suggestions, requests for amendments, or requests to use code numbers to refer to any countries or areas in any manner other than that shown in the AID Geographic Code Book, must be cleared in advance with M/B/PB/RPA.

INTRODUCTION

The AID Geographic Code Book is issued for Administrative purposes in preparing AID documents which provide information for AID's automated and manual systems. The Code Book is used by Agency employees and employees of private institutions who do business with the Agency. The geographical areas, country names, and group designations contained for AID Administrative purposes only and any political associations or affiliations are not intended or implied. Codes contained in Part I are to be used for current projects and codes in Part II may be used for ongoing and closed projects already assigned Geographic Codes.

The Code Book is divided into three sections as follows:

PART I - Numerical List of Current AID Geographic Codes

Based on information obtained from the Department of State Geographer and further adapted for AID needs, this list contains the most current codes and area and country names. It is to be used to code documents related to new projects and documents dealing with current areas and countries. Superseded codes have been left in place without preference to their equivalent noun name. The latter can be found in PART II.

PART II - Numerical List of Superseded and Inactive AID Geographic Codes Areas and Countries

The previous revision of the Code Book had left superseded codes in place with a reference to a footnote or to another code. As a result, the Code Book had become extremely difficult to read, so superseded codes have been moved to a separate section. This does not mean that these codes have been discontinued. Documentation relating to closed projects and possible projects in the implementation stage may have been assigned these codes and their use may be continued. It is emphasized that superseded codes are still a part of the Agency List of AID Geographic Codes and are to be used when applicable.

PART III - Alphabetical List

This section lists all areas, countries, or territories alphabetically regardless of their code number, association, or location and provides a cross-reference to the two numerical listings.

Some area or country names may omit descriptive words such as "Territory, Union, and Republic" which may be a part of the official name but are not required for clarity.

Inquiries regarding the Code Book, including recommendation for improvements, corrections, requests for additional copies, and requests to be placed on the distribution list for changes, are to be addressed to:

FEDERAL INFORMATION
 PROCESSING STANDARD 10-3

1984 February 9

Specifications for

COUNTRIES, DEPENDENCIES, AREAS OF SPECIAL
 SOVEREIGNTY, AND THEIR PRINCIPAL ADMINISTRATIVE DIVISIONS

1. Name of Standard: Countries, Dependencies, Areas of Special Sovereignty, and Their Principal Administrative Divisions.
2. Category of Standard: Federal Program Data Standard, Representations and Codes.

A Federal Program Standard is intended for use in a particular program or mission more than one executive branch department or independent agency is involved with its use. This standard is intended for use in activities associated with the mission of the U.S. Department of State and in national defense programs.

3. Explanation: This Standard provides a list of the basic geopolitical entities in the world, together with the principal administrative divisions that comprise each entity. Each basic geopolitical entity that was listed in FIPS PUB 10-2, Countries Dependencies, and Areas of Special Sovereignty, as updated, is included; it is represented by the same two-character, alphabetic "country code." Each principal division is identified by a four-character code consisting of the two-character "country code" followed by a two-character "administrative division code."

This Standard may be applied either in the two-character format of FIPS PUB 10-2, in which only a basic entity is identified, or in the four-character format that identifies a basic entity and one of its principal administrative divisions. If a complete basic entity is to be represented in the four-character format, blanks are to be used for its "administrative division code." FIPS PUB 10-2 is superseded in its entirety by this Standard.

Basic geopolitical entities assigned "country code" include the following categories: (a) independent states; (b) dependent areas; (c) areas of quasi-independence, non-contiguous territories, possessions without populations, areas with special sovereignty associations, areas without sovereignty; (d) political regimes not recognized by the United States; and (e) outlying areas of the United States. The list of basic entities provides complete coverage of the land areas of the world without overlap or duplication.

For purposes of this Standard, a principal administrative division is defined as administrative area directly subordinate to the pertinent governing authority. Even though all principal administrative divisions within an entity may not be of equal rank, this Standard considers them as "principal."

Geographic names in current use that are listed Standard are approved by the United States Board on Geographic Names (BGN), the authority established under Public Law 80-242 to "provide for uniformity in geographic nomenclature and orthography throughout the Federal Government." Names in this Standard approved by the Board include current names of countries, dependencies, areas of special sovereignty, and their principal administrative divisions.

4. Specifications:

4.1 Table 1: The basic geopolitical entities and divisions are named in table 1, where they are sequenced in alphabetic order by basic entity. A typical entry in table 1 consists of the two-character, alphabetic "country code" of each basic entity; the entity name; a scope note, where necessary, to explain some geographical or political circumstance associated with the entity; the designatory term or terms for administrative divisions of that entity; and the names and complete four-character codes of all the principal divisions that comprise the entity.

The two-character "Administrative divisions code" is alphanumeric, although it is purely numeric in most cases. An alphanumeric is used to distinguish administrative divisions such as in New Zealand where there are more than 99.

The designatory terms of divisions in non-English speaking areas are presented in English translation followed by their indigenous forms, where these are available. For example, in Norway, "fylke" is the indigenous term for an administrative division and "province" is the English equivalent for that term. In the entry for Norway in table 1, this information is presented after the scope note as "province/fylke."

Some countries have more than one class of administrative division, for example, province and territory. Asterisks are used in table 1 to distinguish members of different classes. In the case of province and territory, these designatory terms would be presented after the scope note as:

province
*territory.

Then, each name of a territory listed in table 1 would be followed by an asterisk, while each name of a province would be left unmarked. To distinguish third and fourth designatory terms, two and three asterisks are used, respectively.

For entities in which a script other than the Roman is locally used, BGN-approved Romanization systems indicate Roman script equivalents for names. For reference purposes, conventional names approved by BGN and names formerly approved by BGN are indicated where available.

This information is presented to the right of the name of the division. Conventional names are enclosed in parentheses and formerly approved names are enclosed in square brackets.

4.2 Table 2: This table presents a list of the basic geopolitical entities, both current and former, sequenced alphabetically by country code. Current basic entities are presented in capital letters; former entity names are presented in upper- and lower-case letters. Table 2 lists the former entities to provide a summary of all changes that have taken place since the initial publication of FIPS PUB 10. Each change listed in table 2 is identified by a "Change Number" keyed to the version of FIPS PUB 10 to which the change was applied. Consequently, the list of Change Numbers provides a chronology of changes made to any particular entity.

The leftmost digit of the Change Number identifies the relevant of FIPS PUB 10 in which the change appeared. This may be revision 10-1 or 10-2, identified by "1," "2," respectively. The next two digits identify whether a particular change was reported in the published version, identified by "00," or in a separately issued and numbered Change Notice, identified by the Change Notice number: "01" to "15" in the case of FIPS PUB 10-1, and "01" to "15" in the case of FIPS PUB 10-2. Not all Change Notice numbers appear because some changes concerned scope notes and did not require alterations of names or codes. There were no Change Notices to the original FIPS PUB 10 and, of course, no Change Notices have been issued yet to this version, FIPS PUB 10-3. Changes to the original FIPS PUB 10 were all reported in the first revision, FIPS PUB 10-1.

The two rightmost digits provide a sequence number for individual changes that appeared in the same published version or in the same Change Notice. For example, Change Number 2-07-04 indicates that the identified change was the fourth item to appear in Change Notice No. 7 to FIPS PUB 10-2. Change Number 1-00-01 identifies the first change item that was reported in FIPS PUB 10-1 when it was published.

4.3 Appendix A: This Appendix provides a finding list for places, features, and former names associated with entities not listed in the Standard.

4.4 Appendix B: This Appendix provides a cross-reference listing between the two-character codes as published in FIPS PUB 104 and the FIPS 10-3 codes. Differences in definitions of entities are noted in the Remarks columns of Appendix B.

5. Qualifications: None.
